Guide to Selecting Classes/Courses	Exchange students will normally select classes/courses from levels 1 to 3. Level 1 classes are usually at an introductory level and may not require much previous knowledge or study in the subject. Level 2 and 3 classes will normally require some previous study in the subject. Level 4 classes are not usually available to exchange students unless they have significant background in the subject and meet the prerequisites for the class. (Admission to level 4 classes will normally require the permission of the department which offers the class). Exchange students usually take classes/courses amounting to 60 Strathclyde credits (30 ECTS credits) per semester. This is considered a regular full-time load. All classes/courses will be provisionally agreed at the application/acceptance stage and will be confirmed upon arrival. Applicants are encouraged to identify a list of reserve classes/courses which can be substituted as necessary if any of their provisional selection is not available when they arrive. ERASMUS students should select classes/courses from the Strathclyde department which holds the bilateral agreement. It may be possible to take a class from another department if the other department is agreeable to this, and if it fits into their timetable. This can be discussed and agreed upon arrival. Non ERASMUS/International Exchange students should also identify their main subject area/department and take at least 50% of their classes/courses from that department/subject area. Any other classes/courses will normally be confirmed upon arrival. For details of available classes/courses, please refer to the Guide to Selecting classes. (this is currently being updated for 2016)
